An Important Difference.

To make it appear in thousands, who have been told that they are afflicted with any disease, but that the system is only weak, and that the cure is to be found in the heart, as a matter of fact, is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

MATRIMONIAL.

Mr. John H. Stuart, residing at the house of the late Mrs. J. H. Duval, of Franklin, will be married March 16.

Stewart Harris, of A. H. Stew, an operator from Floyd, and Miss Laura A. Hargis, of Richmond, Ky., were married on the 26th inst. Dr. Stewart is a Hopkinstonian and a handsome gentleman of about 40 years of age.

Obituary.

Died in Minden, Mo., on Feb. 18th, 1892, after a week's illness, Anna Laura, wife of J. H. Lester and youngest daughter of Mr. W. B. and Mrs. J. H. Walker. It is not the purpose of the writer to pen a eulogy on the dead. But would say that in every relation of life which it was her lot to fulfill, she was a true and noble woman. She was winning and attractive in manner, intelligent, amiable and refined, and was ever ready to make sacrifices for others. She gave her heart to God early in the morning of life, and continued to love and serve him until she was called by him. The community in which she lived has lost one of its brightest ornaments. The church and Sabbath-school a devoted and conscientious member. Sainted one, for a time farewell. We feel that our loss is a great one.

Fire at Stevens Friday.

The large lumber warehouse of Franks & Nelson, at Warsaw, Ky., which was being operated by Louiseville parties, was destroyed by fire Friday, retaining a loss of something like $10,000.

The warehouse contained many hundred pounds of tobacco, all of which was destroyed. Three dwelling houses were also burned.

Mangled by the Car.

The crew of the south bound local freight picked up the mangled remains of a negro boy at a point about one mile north of Crofton last Saturday morning. They were turned over to some neighboring colored people who buried them later. The supposition is that he was either leaving his car on No. 10 and fell underneath, or had cut down to rest and fell asleep and was run over by some passing train. The body was not identified.

The Bible teaches.
